De Kooning: Five Decades – Mnuchin Gallery (45 East 78 Street, New York 10075)

Through June 15

Willem de Kooning was one of the Abstract Expressionists who, along with Jackson Pollack, wrestled the art crown from Paris following World War II and brought it to New York. This exhibit traces the full arc of his career from the 40s to the 80s as only the Mnuchin Gallery, with its unparalleled De Kooning resources, can provide.

Colorful, ebullient, the depth and quality of work on display from this major figure in Modern Art could scarcely be topped by any museum in the world.
